

RENEWALS ATTACK ON RECIPROCITY

Senator Cummins Says It Is Unjust and Politically Inexpedient.

Washington, June 29.—Senator Cummins, of Iowa, continued his argument against the Canadian reciprocity bill in the Senate to-day, but did not conclude. He attacked the measure from the standpoint not only of its alleged injustice and political inexpediency, but on the ground that it was not properly drawn as a tariff law.

If passed in its present form, Senator Cummins declared, the agreement would give Canada the option of recognizing one-half of it, without accepting it all. This statement drew the attention of the Senate, many Senators questioning the interpretation thus put upon the bill as sent to Congress by the President.

Senator Cummins declared the passage of the bill would be followed by a storm of disapproval against what the Republican party could not stand. He said it would be accepted by the agricultural interests as notice that Congress had determined that they were not entitled to the same consideration as the other producers of the land.

No Special Session.
Washington, June 29.—There will be no action at the special session of Congress to fix the toll rates of the Panama Canal. Chairman Brandegee, of the Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals, said to-day that while shipping interests had urged an early arrangement of rates, it was apparent no decision could be secured until December. He added that President Taft considered it wise to take up the matter.

Investigation.
Washington, June 29.—An investigation of the Inter-oceanic Canals Commission has been ordered by the Senate. It is an investigation of the law or corporate investigation into the alleged "slush fund" to elect Lorimer.

Mr. Loback said he had received numerous complaints from constituents, who were of the opinion that the high prices of farm implements were due to the fact that the International Harvester Company had practical control of the market. He declared he had not been led to introduce his resolution because of the recent legislation of Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the corporation, before the Senate committee of inquiry about the alleged "slush fund" to elect Lorimer.

Early Action Promised.
Washington, June 29.—Action in the near future regarding the exclusion of Jewish-American citizens from Russia, was promised by Chairman Cullom, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to-day. Answering a criticism of the committee made on the floor by Senator Culberson, who charged "inactivity and inattention," Senator Cullom said conferences were now being held between the committee and the Secretary of State.

The committee had failed to act only because it was impossible to find out without complicating affairs between the United States and Russia, he said. Senator Culberson said the committee had been considering for three months his resolution recognizing the republic of Portugal, while meantime the President had recognized the new republic. The committee did not consider it proper to do this while the change in the government was going on.

To Invite Foreign Nations.
Washington, June 29.—Representative Clark, of Florida, to-day introduced a resolution calling on President Taft to invite representatives of foreign nations to attend the celebration at Key West, January 3, 1912, of the completion of the extension of the Florida East Coast Railway over the Florida Keys.

In Session Few Minutes.
Washington, June 29.—The House of Representatives was in session a few minutes to-day and adjourned until Saturday.

HER STORY SAVES CONVICTED MAN

A revolver and do not know how it went off."

Amann was employed by the city officials of Warren and he was engaged in making appraisals on a new water plant when he was killed. The body was found near a reservoir a short distance from Warren. There were three bullet wounds in his head and neck and an automatic revolver with three empty shells in it was near the body. The weapon was identified as similar to that owned by Andrews.

It was night that Amann was killed he went to the reservoir to make some measurements and to inspect a valve.

Before he left the City Hall at Warren he had a telephonic communication with Andrews and he also ordered a horse and carriage to be charged to Andrews and Amann. The horse was picked up in the streets at 11 o'clock on the night of January 27, but it had been detached from the carriage.

WIDOW OF LIEUT. JANNEY SECRETLY WEDS COL. AMES

LIEUT. COL. ROBERT F. AMES

Officer at Whose Dinner Party Lieutenant Shot Self Her Third Husband.

Sacramento, Cal., June 29.—The secret marriage has been celebrated here of Colonel Robert F. Ames, United States Army, of New York, and the widow of Lieutenant Clarence M. Janney, who shot himself to death in Manila, March 12, 1910, in the presence of the new republic. The marriage was performed in the home of Mrs. Janney, who, it now appears, June 6, became Mrs. Ames, the ceremony being performed in the home of Mrs. Janney's brother, Judge R. R. McKissick.

When Janney shot himself there clung for a time a mystery about the manner of his death. Colonel Ames, then lieutenant-colonel of the Twelfth Infantry, was tried before a court-martial, which, however, decided that Janney had without doubt taken his own life, and that Ames's connection with the case did not lay him open to suspicion or censure.

The case stirred army circles in the Philippines until the Washington authorities had to take a hand and call half a dozen courts-martial in order to clear the atmosphere. But out of it came only much gossip, and the one fact that Janney had shot himself because he had discovered that his wife had made a gift to Colonel Ames of a silver champagne cooler that had been given to Janney as a token of esteem by brother officers in the Twelfth.

Were Romantic Couple.
Janney and his wife enjoyed great social popularity at the Manila army post. They were a romantic couple. He had been a soldier of fortune, fighting in the Cuban insurgent army against Spain and enlisting in several South American revolutions. He went to the United States Army as a private, but in about three years had attained a second lieutenant's commission. He was a man of culture and came of a well-known Virginia family, and, despite his having risen from the ranks, experienced no social snubbing from his fellow officers or their families.

The career of the woman who has now become Mrs. Ames was equally romantic. She was Madeline McKissick, a daughter of Judge McKissick, of Oakland, California. Her first marriage was in 1893 to Peda Bruguere, son of Emil Bruguere, an Oakland capitalist. The wedding was swiftly brought about. Miss McKissick and young

LIEUT. CLARENCE M. JANNEY

Bruguere were guests at a New Year Eve party at the home of Senator Frank J. Moffitt, of Oakland, and in the course of the evening Senator Moffitt had extolled the happiness of the married state. Bruguere and Miss McKissick were so impressed with it that they went straightway from the Senator's house and got married. But ten months later they were divorced.

Has Been on Stage.
Prior to this marriage, the young woman had been well known as an amateur actress. Then she turned to the stage professionally and made her debut in 1890, with Mme. Modjeska's repertoire company. Six weeks afterward she joined a stock company directed by Harry Corson Clarke.

It was in August, 1909, that Janney, then stationed at Governor's Island, was ordered to the Philippines. Mrs. Bruguere, who, after her divorce, had resumed her maiden name of McKissick, was in New York and had met Janney. He asked her to marry him and accompany him to the Philippines, and she consented. They went to Manila a few hours before the transport sailed and were married by Justice of the Peace Lehane.

Two years later came Janney's suicide. His natural gaiety and companionableness made his act all the more shocking. Apparently in the best of good will he went with his wife to dine at the home of his superior officer.

Recognizes Silver Cooler.
The dinner party went on merrily till the Japanese servant brought in the champagne in the silver cooler. Janney recognized the vessel as his and demanded an explanation. When he learned that his wife had presented the cooler to Colonel Ames he flew into a rage, got up abruptly and rushed out of the house.

Lieutenant Jordan, another guest, went in pursuit of him. But he did not find Janney, who had gone straight to his own quarters and secured a revolver. Then he returned to Colonel Ames's house and entered by the back door. He stalked into the room where Colonel Ames and Mrs. Janney were sitting still at the dinner table and before their eyes sent a bullet into his brain.

RAIN HAS HELPED IN SAVING CROPS

Drought Hampers Boys' Corn Work—Outlook as Reported to Sandy.

Last Saturday's rains, with others of the last two weeks, will be of inestimable value to the farmers of Virginia, according to the official reports made to Chief Demonstrator T. O. Sandy from his thirty-five county demonstrators situated in as many of the counties of this State. This week's reports show that without a single exception each of these counties had as much rain last week as was needed for the time being.

"The loss to the hay crop," said Mr. Sandy, "was in the city last night, 'will not be nearly so great as reported in some quarters. Of course, the drought hurt it immensely, but the general reports indicate from a third to half a crop. In some cases I know of, there will be more than a half crop. Such will be the result, for instance, on my farm."

Many Boys Drop Out.
"Corn is practically unhurt, but the acreage will not be so large as would have been the case, but for the dry weather. For instance, we have 2,500 boys in round numbers, in our boys' corn clubs in the State this year. About 400 of these have been compelled to drop out for the season because they were unable to plow under the crimson clover which had been sown to improve the land. Interest in corn-raising has been so much stimulated that under ordinary circumstances Virginia would have had a bumper crop. I am not so sure yet, but that we will have the largest crop in the history of the State."

"Wheat has, of course, been hurt to some extent, but the yield will be fair. Oats are also in a fair condition. As to tobacco, the damage is great. The farmers could not get out their plants at the proper time, and the acreage has been much curtailed. If this causes the planters to raise something else, it will be a blessing to the State. Tobacco raising is the greatest curse on the Virginia farmer."

BANDITS STILL AT LARGE

They Hold Up Train, but Secure Little Reward.
Roseburg, Ore., June 29.—The bandits who last night held up the first section of a north-bound Southern Pacific passenger train near West Fork, fifty-two miles south of here, are believed to have secured a reward for their trouble. The robbers boarded the train at 9:10 P. M. at West Fork, a way station in Douglas county, and compelled the trainmen to uncouple the express, mail and baggage cars from the rest of the train, running them a mile ahead. Two of the robbers entered the mail car, and the three mail clerks and cut over the registered pouches.

One of the mail clerks, Olmstead, who was careless, showed some packages off into a pile of empty sacks. The parcels the mail clerks believe, contained money.

Falling to break into the express car, the robbers started off in the darkness just as four shots were fired at them by Engineer Schmidt, who had run up from the main part of the train.

A posse left West Fork immediately for the scene of the hold-up. The robbers, however, secured a big start.

Piping Voice Made Him Deliver

Ben Owen Started as Words Came From Under His Typewriter Table.

While Ben P. Owen, secretary to Governor Mann, was engaged yesterday in his usual occupation of hard labor at his typewriter, a thin voice smote upon his ear with these words:

"Pardon me, sir. My name is Willie Jones. I represent the Williams Street Mission, and I beg leave to present herewith my credentials."

Mr. Owen looked up and down the room, but saw nothing. He was apparently alone with his weighty thoughts. He knew of no ventriloquist about the Capitol who could have perpetrated such a joke on him, and he marveled at the pranks played by the nerves of the ear to produce such results. So he resumed his absorbing occupation.

"Pardon me, sir," came the voice again. "I represent the Williams Street Mission, and I beg leave to present herewith my credentials."
